“Black and Whites” - Photographs November 20, 2018 - January 11, 2019

This was a study in black and white photography form out in Death Valley, highlighting the Panamint Dunes. This series was done on a trip into the wilderness after a Motor Cross shoot, to get away from humanity and enjoy nature. The Panamint Sand Dunes are a rarely-visited dunes system located in the far northern part of Panamint Valley, which has some of the most beautiful dunes in Death Valley. They are a four-mile hike out, and often you will be the only one there. They make for stunning photography because of how the afternoon sun casts shadows over the sand.

$100 from the sale of each of these photographs will go to support victims of the recent fire in Paradise, CA.
